

In Chicago 18th edition, there is no page number on the first page. Pagination starts on the second page, with the number 2.

“Tutti, Tutti, Tutti”:

The Impact of Pope Francis

Commented [PR1]: The title goes 1/3 down the page, in bold

Molly Madonna

RST 4240: Christology

May 4, 2025

Commented [PR2]: Check with your professor. While the standard is to have the student’s name, the class name, and the date the paper is due, some professors prefer this style:

Student Name
Professor name
Class name
Date due

With the death of Pope Francis on April 21, 2025, just one day after Easter, the Catholic faithful began to compile the pontiff's legacy. When the succeeding pope, Pope Leo XIV, stood on the balcony to address the faithful, he immediately addressed his predecessor, saying, "Let us keep in our ears the weak but always brave voice of Pope Francis, who blessed Rome" (Vatican News, 2025). However, during his Urbi et Orbi blessing, one word Pope Leo used, in Italian, stood out to his English-speaking audience: Tutti.